Guerbet Announces Key Research and Educational Grants and Partnerships

Princeton, NJ – November 23, 2021– Guerbet LLC, the US affiliate of Guerbet, a global leader in medical imaging, is pleased to be exhibiting in Booth 1711 at the RSNA 2021 Scientific Assembly and Annual Meeting and to share its continued partnership with the Radiological Society of North America (RSNA) through the awarding of its Guerbet Research Scholar Grant. After a thorough review of hundreds of grant applications, the RSNA Research & Education (R&E) Foundation Board of Trustees awarded $3.2 million in funding to Hersh Sagreiya, MD, with the University of Pennsylvania, to pursue research on Automated Hepatic Fat Quantification Using Machine Learning.

"As a corporate donor through RSNA's R&E Vanguard program, we are proud to help promote the work of Dr. Sagreiya and his colleagues," said Thomas McLaughlin, VP, Guerbet North America. "Guerbet is committed to advancing, empowering, and advocating for our shared radiological industry and are proud to partner with RSNA to grant funds that will help us further understand the intersections between health, technology, and treatment."

The RSNA R&E Foundation invests in the future of radiology by developing investigators and supporting lifelong innovative research and education. Guerbet is equally committed to this cause, which is why the company continues to be an industry leader in promoting grant and partnership programs, including:

- Continuing Education Resources: Guerbet offers continuing education courses that are free and easy to access for the entire radiology industry. These resources bolster the continued growth and understanding of education for physicians, technologists, administrators, and nurses, providing critical Continuing Education credits at no cost.

- ABAIM Partnership Grants: Providing 100 academic educational scholarships to the non-profit American Board of Artificial Intelligence in Medicine (ABAIM) to fund participation in their AI in Medicine Review Course.

- ASPNR-Guerbet Research Grant: In January 2022, the American Society of Pediatric Neuroradiology and Guerbet will announce its research grant recipient—honoring researchers who advance the understanding, diagnosis, and/or treatment of central nervous system pathologies in children.
